

WASTE WARRIORS WANTED:

TUNBRIDGE WORLD'S FAIR SEPT 13-16 TRAINING SAT. SEPT. 8 - 12:30 - 2PM

Do you love festivals and community events but hate the waste that comes out of them? Here's your opportunity to be a part of the solution!

The Central Vermont Solid Waste Management District (CVSWMD) is hosting free workshops to train helpers ("Waste Warriors") to assist at local events such as Barre Heritage Festival and the Tunbridge World's Fair. These trainings will review the types of materials that flow through typical events, contamination issues, and what materials can get composted and recycled (and what cannot). Volunteers will also learn and practice ways to engage and educate public about reducing waste at events.

Waste Warrior participants will gain free access (if there's an event fee) or meal pass, with a 2-3 hour volunteer commitment.

For more information, contact Jan Lloyd or 802-229-9383 x 115 or visit cvswmd.org/waste-warriors.
