Review of agenda

Review of Zoom protocol (muting, raise hand feature)

Review of discourse expectation

- Complicated and layered issue with lots of details which deserves a thorough review in order to make the best decision for the town

Review of Planning Commission meeting on 3/4

- Subcommittee to contact landowners, and experts to walk trails
- Survey has been pushed back until after Town Meeting
- Town Meeting presentation

Review of webpage

- Updated resource guide
- A walk through the answers provided by the Vermont League of Cities and Towns to questions asked by the PC

Trail User Input

Matt Frost

- Concerned about precedent setting if legal trails are closed or limited
- Legal Trails have been on bike maps since the early 2001

<sup>1</sup> *Unidentified, via Zoom name

- STRAVA app shows trails but also light use of them
- Tunbridge is looking to attract young families and competing with other towns - outdoor recreation is important in that choice

Point of clarification from Laura G.: landowners do own the land where legal trails pass but cannot decide what to do with them - decision by the town

Eliza Minnucci

- Has visited the different legal trails
- Three Points:
  1. Roads allow easy access to other parts of town while avoiding main highways, especially for children
  2. Access to green spaces is a Vermont tradition and somewhat unique to Vermont. Important to community and needs to be fostered
  3. Want young families to come to Tunbridge and outdoor recreation is important to them
- Restricting access in off seasons important

Liz York

- Upper Valley has always had a vibrant mountain biking community
- Little negative experience on trails between different users
- Tunbridge has few ordinances - do not want to be like other towns and this is a source of pride

Scott Beavers

- Has been using trails for 25 years
- Has not seen a lot of bike use on them
- Trails provide a place where people can take in the history, vegetation, etc. = best way to see and experience Tunbridge
- Town trails are an asset to the town

Allison Ericson

- Hiking, skiing, snowshoeing are all benefits to living in VT
- Alarmed by the potential of limiting trail use

Mariah Lawrence

- Have to create a plan an approach that reflect town values
- A key part of Tunbridge and Vermont culture is sharing land

- Trails connect children which may draw people to Tunbridge

Todd Tyson

- Tunbridge has a healthy, connected community through different organizations
- Legal trails are precious resources that are unique
- Is a bike event organizer: no large groups using trails

Michael Sacca

- Showed a presentation that:
  - Reviewed the legal trails map
  - Showed different laws defining legal trails, landowner rights, etc.
- Emphasized the importance of outdoor recreation and active lifestyles
- Maintenance of trails leads to a conservation ethic
- Bike events like the Ranger are good for the local economy
- Policy needs to be consistent among legal trails - limiting some could be a slippery slope

Wright Frost

- Representing the voice of young people
- The unique locations of legal trails make them popular
- Limitation on them would be detrimental to the town's future

Public Comments:

John Echeverria

- Supports public access and use of legal trails but opposed to expansion of use beyond hiking
- Has had negative experiences with bikers on the legal trail
- Showed maps of legal trails, reviewed where different bike events occur, and noted only two of the legal trails are usable
- Lots of opportunities to use other roads to bike - class 3 and 4 roads

Sean Ogle

- Works with landowners on trails and has spent years building and maintaining trails
- Would like to be part of the PC walks to discuss mitigating impacts on trails

Matt Frost

- Offered perspective on conflicts between landowners and cyclists

- Most of the legal trails are used by people

Maureen McCullough

- Has experienced challenges with people using the legal trails and horses
- Tunbridge has passed other ordinances that are not enforced
- As a member of the Walking Group talked to landowners who had issues with trail use
- Speed of bikes could cause risk

Liz York

- Question: Can you put a gate across a legal trail? Does the Selectboard grant special permission for gates?

Next meeting is Wednesday March 10 at 6:30 pm. Agenda is still under development. It will be the last legal trails informational meeting.

Meeting Adjourned: 8:09 pm
